The veterans of the First Ward, last evening, would lead us to believe that the Murray Comedy Company was the best organization of its class that played in this city during the year. It was that so the company this year must have been strengthened and have strengthened it in many ways. All next week the Washington Opera.

The General Delivery at the Postoffice will close at 11 o'clock a.m. and remain closed for the day.

The Water Committee met promptly and adopted full power, Mr. Frank Dietricher, Chairman of the Committee.

With his usual activity in public affairs Frank set out to complete arrangements for quenching the First Ward thirst.

The contract for the well had been let to a Manchester firm.

And then Frank sought the most approved pump-making establishment, finding one which was that very much to his liking.

The Chicago Sucker Factory offered him a discount of $8 spot cash, f.o.b. for the sucking machine, and in a spirit of true economy he accepted at the proposition.

The next thing was to send the money to the Chicago man, so Mr. Dietricher hunted up City Treasurer Fitzgerald and had him seal a check in payment for the pump, less the discount.

Mr. Fitzgerald didn't know the Chicago man in the transaction, but did know that the contract had been let to a Manchester firm, he drew the "promise to pay" in the name of the man from Manchester.

When the Chicago man received the check all he could do was to send it to the Manchester man, for his indorsement, expecting of course that the M. M. would return it to him after having written his bourseau across the back of it.

But the Manchester man had been dealing in suckers a little bit himself, and after he had stung some of his good black ink across the check he at once proceeded to get the money on it—and they do say the Manchester man hasn't been heard from since.

This is a part of a story of a Pump, and the conclusion will be learned when the Board of Council meets Monday night.

FAMILY REUNION.

Gaibrath Homestead in Bracken County Scene of a Happy Gathering.

Recently the elegant old Thomas Gaibrath homestead just beyond Bridgeville, in Bracken county, was the scene of a happy gathering.

Dr. W. T. Gaibrath of Cleveland, O., accompanied by his wife, a few weeks since came to Kentucky to visit his aged mother, Mrs. Sampsa Gaibrath, who is in her 70's now.

His presence sufficed to rally a number of his surprise dinner was served in his honor.

All the eight children with their children and eight greatgrandchildren were in attendance.

Two granddaughters absent were Ethan Bradley, now at Colorado Springs, Col., and Morley Bradley of Dayton, O.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

Closed Its Sessions Yesterday at Noon—A Profitable Meeting.

Institute opened with singing. Rev. Porter led the devotional exercises.

Prof. Willis gave the Institute one of his best addresses on "The Psychology of the Higher and Lower Life." The greatest attention and interest was manifested by the teachers and visitors throughout this lecture. Surely no teacher could afford to miss it.

Mr. Willis had expected to devote the last period to the subjects "Nature Study" and "Child Study," but on account of lack of time was unable to do so. He, however, distributed outlines of these subjects which will certainly repay a careful perusal. The Instructor then completed the subject of "Applications of Percentage," noticing some points which are very liable to be wrongly taken.

The Superintendent gave the teachers some information concerning supplies and in a few well chosen words dismissed the Institute sine die.

There seems to be a general feeling among the teachers that the session just closed has been one of great interest and benefit to all who attended.

Mr. Willis's remarks on grading deserve especial mention. He thinks a pupil's knowledge of a subject cannot be measured by a standard of per cent. at the close of a recitation but rather the true teacher will judge of his power to think, observe and compare than answering categorical questions.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF DIARRHEA.

A Prominent Virginia Editor Has Almost Given Up, But Was Brought Back to Perfect Health by Chamberlain's Cold, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy—Read His Editorial.

For a long time diarrhea has been a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up. I then took Chamberlain's Cold, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy and was soon well again. I also saw some testimonials stating how wonderful cures had been wrought in other cases. I am now well again.

I wish to say further to men and women that I am a male and have never been to a doctor and as well as I ever did in my life—O. R. Morris. Sold by J. James Wood & Son, Drugists.

IN RACING TRIM.

The Shamrock, the English Yacht, Made Ready for the Race With the Columbia.

IS IN A NEW COAT OF GREEN PAINT.

Sir Thomas Lipton, the Owner of the Vessel, Arrived at Quarantine on Friday Night.

He Was Met and Welcomed by a Delegation. He Has Been Extended the Courtesy of Fifty-six Clubs While in United States.

NEW YORK. Sept. 2.—Capt. Archie Hogarth, the Shamrock's sailing master and his assistant, Capt. Wrings, have timed their work so well that the yacht, which arrived here August 18, after an ocean passage of some 14 days from the Clyde was ready Friday in her racing rig and in a new coat of green paint to receive her owner Sir Thomas Lipton and her designer, William Fife, who arrived by the steamer City of Edinburgh.

The Cunard Line steamer Campania arrived at quarantine Friday night at 7:30 o'clock and was met in the Narrows by a flotilla of tugs and the steam yacht Erin to greet Sir Thomas Lipton, who was a passenger on the liner. The quarantine commissioners' boat, the State of New York, also appeared on the scene with a large party under the guidance of Commissioner Edward T. Farley. They were greeted by Col. Trueswell, Gov. Roosevelt's military secretary, who was sent by the governor to receive Sir Thomas Lipton, a number of officials and members of the New York Yacht club, a number of members from the New England so ciety and other similar organizations. All boarded the steamer and came up to the dock.

Sir Thomas Lipton when seen at quarantine said that he had a pleasant trip, but was glad to arrive at his destination. He said his party was small consisting of Mr. William Fife, Jr., Mr. Ratsey, the sailmaker, and Sir Thomas' secretary. Sir Thomas, in his welcome down the bay, received an invitation extending the courtesies of the club while in this country, and an invitation to lead the marine division of the Dewey day celebration with his yacht Erin. Both were accepted.

One of the first questions Sir Thomas asked after the first greeting was "How is the Columbia?" He then expressed the belief that the best boat would win, saying: "We felt it's a waste of time to come here with anything but the best boat in England. She is here now. We are going to do our best. The Shamrock will do her best and we will try to do better than people who have been here before. Whatever the outcome of the race may be, I am sure if I am defeated, it will be because I have not the best boat. I feel that I am among friends."

There was a large crowd at the Cunard dock when the Campania arrived. As the big vessel loomed up at bearing a big Shamrock flag came ahead and this caused great cheering on the part of the crowd on the dock. Cheers were given for the Shamrock and her owner.

When Sir Thomas came over the gang plank he was received with another great cheer. He took off his cap and bowed, and there was a smile on his face. He was pushed and jostled about in the great throng like a countryman in line for a ticket at a circus, but he took it all in good nature.

"Upon my word, I did not expect this," said he, as Messrs. Fife and Ratsey and a couple of members of the New York Yacht club and several policemen made a way for him through the crowd. "Is this the way they welcome the men who come to get the cup?"

"You're all right, Sir Thomas," shouted a voice.

"I am glad to hear that, by Jove! I rather think I will be sorry to take that cup after all," replied Sir Thomas.

"You'll get a run for your money, shouted a voice.

"I don't doubt it," answered Sir Thomas, laughing. "You've always done that."

No cup challenger was ever before given a reception that would compare with that accorded to Sir Thomas.

Bakers' Bread.

The bakers' bread of today is not the bakers' bread of twenty years ago. Science and study has developed this food product more than any other manufactured article of consumption. The F. H. Traxel Company of this city is now the leading bread bakers of this section, simply because they have given study and close attention for years to making Bread that will please the public. Even now there is an impression that prevails among the few that bakers' bread is unwholesome and unfit for family use. We will admit that there are many bakers who make their bread the same as their forefathers did years ago, and hence this impression is justifiable to those who never had an opportunity to get Bread made by modern processes and by bakers who thoroughly understand how to make Bread that will be praised for its merits. The F. H. Traxel Co. has done its share to supply this section, enabling people to get Bread that will meet with every requirement. We make the assertion that this Bread will meet with every requirement because we have evidence of it, and the evidence is the increasing demand whenever sold.
